

CATERHAM SCHOOL

16 February 2011

To Parents and Guardians of Fifth Year pupils

Dear Parents and Guardians,

With the exams fast approaching, I wanted to pass onto you information which will hopefully make your preparation and planning in the lead up to the exams run as smoothly as possible. The first and most important piece of information is when the actual GCSEs start. Although examination leave commences on 13 May at 4.00pm there is an English exam on the afternoon of 12 May. This is a changed date and as such we have decided not to start examination leave early, rather to grant the pupils examination leave on that morning. That means they need to be in School for the start of lunch on Thursday 12 May at 12.35pm.

Once examination leave commences pupils only have to come into School for their examinations. If their exam is in the morning they are required to be in School and outside the examination hall at 8.45am, and if they are in afternoon exams they must be outside the hall no later than 1.45pm.

During examination leave pupils will be given designated study rooms so that if they wish, they can study in School. Closer to the date of examination leave we shall be organising these study rooms and ascertaining from the pupils exactly if and when they will be coming into School to study. We will also be asking pupils to pass on any requirements they may have for lunch during the study leave period.

The time between examination leave commencing and the end of the examinations is well over a month and pupils should use this time as productively as possible. During this period some teachers may be running extra sessions, pupils must be pro-active in seeking out if, when and where these are taking place. In the lead up to the examinations, many teachers are also putting on voluntary lunchtime sessions (see attached list). If your child would benefit from any additional help or support then they should look to be attending some of these sessions.

Along with this letter, I have also included a copy of the examination timetable, I should stress however that this is still provisional and although exam dates are unlikely to change, they could change following modular results in March. I will notify you of any changes that there are.
